

Strengthening Climate Information Partnerships – East Africa (SCIPEA)

The Met Office is working in collaboration to strengthen climate partnerships in East Africa

The Met Office is working on this project with the International Research Institute for Climate and Society (IRI), IGAD (Intergovernmental Authority on Development) Climate Prediction Applications Centre (ICPAC), the meteorological services of Ethiopia, Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda, educational institutions and end users of seasonal forecasting information in the region and from the four countries.

Project components

This project includes the following elements:

- Delivery of training on producing tailored seasonal forecasts
- Delivery of training on communicating seasonal forecasts
- Facilitating engagement between climate information providers and users in order to co-develop services

Communications workshop – August 2016

Contact WISER:

www.metoffice.gov.uk/wiser

#UKaidWISER

Lnked.in/wiser